TWO MILLIONAIRE SENATORS WARNED BY THE POLICE.

They Have Been Running Their Auto mobiles at a Dangerous Rate of Speed.

Washington, April 6.—Clark of Montana and Eikins of West Virginia, the millionaire nators, have been admonished by Ser-ant-at-Arms Ransdell of the Sanata that hey must moderate the speed of their auoblies. The Capitol police force has been king war against sprinting chauffeurs. The doughty police Captain has furnished his men with cyclometers. To-day he directed his squad: "Go forth, my minions, and apprehend all who violate the law spainst speed. Be no respecters of persons, nor of ranks, nor of classes. If they who make the law choose to head the law the make the law choose to break the law they shall know 'tis yet the law."

The autos of Senators Clark and Elkins are just about the specifiest things that ever set the breeze of Capitol Hill or made to palpitate the hearts of trightened pedestrians. The statesmen love a "hot chase down the wind." Their chauffeurs filing on the power and let things hum, and the wheels go so fast they only hit the high places.

HEAVY INCREASE IN COAL PRODUCT

Volume and Value of Missouri's Output Last Year Exceeded All Former Records.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Jefferson City, Mo., April 6.-The report of State Coal Mine Inspector Charles Evans has been submitted to Governor Dockery. It treats only of the coal-mining operations in the State for the past year. It shows that this industry is growing rapidly and made long strides the past year. The output of coal shows a very decided increase, and leads any previous year by over 800,000 tons of coal mined. More new mines have been opened; more improve ments have been made; more men have been employed and more freedom from serious troubles than ever before experienced in our mining history. Our mines were never so safe or their sanitary condition better, with every indication that the current year will witness still better conditions and an increased product. The coal output for the year was 3.810,767 tons, as against 2.895,022 tons for 1909, showing an increase of $15,745 tons. This product sold at the mine for $4,712,181, compared with $3,643,975 for the previous year-an inor $1,062,206, or nearly 29 per cent. The average price received at the mines per ton of coal was $1.24, or three (3) cents in excess of the average price for the year becess of the average price for the year before.

The total number of men employed in and about the mines during the winter season was 19,600, as against 8,608 the year before, showing an increase of 1,852 men. The actual number of miners at work in winter was $,341, and during the summer 5,968. The average number of all men employed throughout the year was 9,218. There were 419 mules worked in the ground in winter and 341 in summer. The 360 mines operated during the year are entered by 162 shaft openings, 61 slopes, 58 drifts and 54 strip-pits. There were 73 fans, 124 furnaces and 147 mines furnished with natural ventilation. Power was furnished by 6 electric plants, 102 steam plants, 143-horse-power plants and 143 hand plants. There were 171 mines worked on the long-wall plan and 161 on the pillar and room system. In extracting the coal the miners used 100,622 keeps of powder, which cost them $199,634.59.

Accidents in the mines number 31, of which 15 were fatal and 15 were nonfatal, there being 2 fewer accidents this year than there were last year, although there were more men employed and a largely increased tonnage mined. Falls of roof and coal caused 45 per cent of the accidents, powder explosions 15 per cent, mine cars 15 per cent, premature explosions 7 per cent, returning too soon on shots 6 per cent and windy shots 7 per cent, Two hundred and fifty-four thousand tons were mined for each nonfatal accident.

The report will not be ready for distribueach nonfatal secident.

Murray Carleton, president of the St. Louis Transit Company and of the Carleton Dry Goods Company, delivered an address Sunday afternoon before a large audience of young men at the Third Bap-tist Church, Grand and Washington avenues. His subject was "Character." Mr. Carleton took his text from Psaim, exix, verse 9-"Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed theret according to thy word." He said, in part: "Character—The definition of character is: The estimate the community places on the individual. It is the inward grace, of which reputation is the outward or visible sign. It is the product of nature, habit and

"Character is the fruit of daily actions, and words, and thoughts, daily struggles against temptations, submissiveness under trials. All these qualities constitute the true man. You cannot inherit, purchase or dream yourself into character, you must patiently build one. Yes, actually forge it yourself. It is an ennobling life's work. Character is the crown and giory of life. It is the greatest possession to which you can attain. It will dignify every station, exalt every position in society. It exercises a power more potent than wealth and severe and carries. cures all honor to its possessors and carries with it an influence that is irresistible as rectitude and consistency will ever be qualities which perhaps, more than any other command, the confidence and re-spect of mankind. Character grows with use. It is the development and natural result of a 'patient continuing in well do-ing.' It is achieved-wrought out-not re-

"Character is influenced by environment. Seek the true, the noble, the pure for companionship. 'Abhor that which is evil. cleave to that which is good.' Every man is a reflector. In your tace you reflect custom and habit, in your wine mannerism and mativity. In your mind mental and moral worth. When natural, we are like a mirror, we cannot help reflecting, we cannot help showing the environment in which we live, the influences that are daily woven into the woof and warp of the thread of life and that are playing around us. Tennyson says 'I am a part of all that I have met.' A man who has solied his garments in youth, though he may seek to make them white again, even to washing them with his tears, cannet wholly do so. When a young man leaves his father's house, with the benediction of his mother's tears still wet on his brow and losses that early purity of thought and character it is a loss, which though he gain the wealth of Croeaus, while leave him poor inded. "The finest fruit of the earth is a finished man. All the majesty of the summer, all the grandeur of the storm, all the beauty of art, is not comparable to the symmetrical beauty of a full-orbed manhood. To attain to such, to fill up the full measure of your God given privileges and possibilities should be the holy alm and honest purpose of the youth and young men of our great nation, thus seeking to accomplish the object of their creation and to willingly and cheering the marvelous Christian givilization which is our common heritage.

The new Catholic Church of the Syrians of St. Louis was formerly opened yesterday norning by the Reverend Father Matthew Noemi, who said mass in the new edifice for the first time. The Chapel of St. An thony the Hermit, as the new church is known, is located at No. 617 South Broad

House of Worship.

The building was formerly two residences but through the efforts of Father Noemi and his devout congregation, the property was purchased, and by the sanction of Archbishop Kain, the structures were transformed into a comfortable chapel.

Until yesterday services were held at No. 717 South Third street, but the building was far too small to accommodate the growing congregation. Hereafter mass will be said every morning. Thursday Archbishop Kain will bless the church and hold confirmation services. Services.

The chapel is the only Syrian Catholic Church in the West, there being but two others in the country, one at Boston, Mass., and another at Philadelphia, Pa.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Kansas City, Mo., April 6.-The Repubicans practically closed their campaign with a rally at Convention Hall last night. will close in the same hall with a great demonstration. Party lines in this city, according to the judgment of the best politicians, are some-what broken. The Democratic campaign has een conducted on the lines of requiring the Metropolitan Street Railway and other local public-service corporations to give the pub-lic better service, and to become servants rather than masters of the people.

It is alleged by the Democratio manage-ment that the Metropelitan Street Railway Company is taking an active part for the Republican ticket. The fight, therefore, while in a measure along old party lines, has been to a certain extent nonpartisan. Both parties are confident, but it seems impossible to predict the outcome with any degree of certainty. The city has a normal Republican majority of 2600. This is a great advantage for the Republican ticket.

Henry Flutcher, the negre sentenced to death for the murder of Louis Roth, will be executed next Friday morning. This will be he first hanging to eccur in St. Louis in the first hanging to occur in St. Louis in three years.

Flutcher shot and killed Louis Roth, a white man, near Leffingwell avenue and Montgomery street, on the night of August 21, 1900. Flutcher claimed that he shot him in self-defense. The evidence showed that Flutcher and an eider brother of Roth had trouble a few nights before, and when the negro met Roth he shot him without any provocation. Flutcher was sentenced to be hanged March 14, but a stay of execution was granted by the Supreme Court until April 11.

Flutcher has hopes that he will not face the gallows. "I don't want to be executed." said he yesterday afternoon in jall. "And I think I will not face the gallows. I have hopes that something will turn up before Friday which will save me."

REED'S STRONG FIGHT GARNEGIE COMMENDS CECIL RHODES'S WILL

Believes the Future of the Anglo-Saxon Race Is on the Hudson, Ohio and Mississippi.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, April 6.-Mr. Andrew Carnegie to-day expressed his admiration of the will of Cecil Rhodes, but said the provisions did not surprise him greatly, as he was somewhat acquainted with the ideas of Mr. Rhodes. Speaking of the German scholarships pro-country, Mr. Carnegie said that the only trouble about Germany's entering into a union at present with the United States was that President Rowevelt and the German Emperor were as like as two peas. "The will of Cecil Rhodes," said Mr. Car-
